A CENTENARIAN PAIR.

The Husband, Age 112, and the Wife 115.

Old Ben Wickliffe and his Older Wife—Darkies Whose Memories Date Back to the Revolutionary War.

Typical old-times negroes are Ben Wickliffe and his centenarian wife, Charlotte. The old man is a little squatly negro with an extremely bald head, whose only covering is two little tufts of white wool over each ear that contrast with the dark background of the scalp. His beaming face that is continually lighted up with an expression of content and innate good humor, is typical of the simple nature of the old time slave.
Charlotte, his older but better half is in perfect keeping with the old man, and has been his companion for seventy years.

But these ordinary traits are the least striking in this interesting old couple. Both date their birth back in the eighteenth century. The old man fixes his age at 112, while his wife stands pat, and goes him three better at 115.

This morning a Post reporter, hearing of this extraordinary old couple, called on them at their home with their son at No. 803 Twelfth street, near Walnut. When the reporter entered the old people were snugly stored away in a cozy little room on the second floor. The old man was seated in an arm-chair looking steadfastly into the fire, while his wife lay upon a bed near by, resting her shrivelled hand lovingly upon the barest part of his head.

I understand, I feel, that you are over a hundred years old, began the reporter.

Yes, sonny; de ole man is pretty ole. I've seen generations of men die and not a soul lives now that was young in my days. I guess even the old plantation wouldn't know me now for everything has changed since I was a boy.

How do you arrive at your age?
Just by reck'ning. It has to be calculated like everything else that lives beyond the recollection of man.

How old are you?

Well, it's been calculated different ways, and has not been fixed lower than 112 years. After long counting the white folks at Bardstown, where I comes from, fixed it at dese fig-ers I was a boy.

How far back can you remember?
I can go way back to the first war, when General Washington whipped the English.

Did you see any of the fighting?
No, but I remember the soldiers coming back from de war dressed in buckskin coats. I was quite a big boy then, I reckon twelve years old.

When I was young the country was all woods and firs. There was only one house in Bardstown when I was a boy, and this place was no larger than Bardstown is now when I was pretty near grown. When old Master Wickliffe died he was a white headed old man, and I was just a few years younger than him. He died too long ago to think about it. It must be nigh forty years.

Do you remember any of the Presidents?

I never seed any of 'em, but heard tell of the whole lot.

How did you come to marry the old woman?

This caught the ear of the old woman, and rising up in the bed, teeming all over with laughter, she demanded the woman's right to inform on all questions relating to so tender a subject.

Sonny you see I's a Virginny nigger and they can't grow pretty niggers nowhere but in ole Virginny.

When I moved to Bardstown I jest caught de eyes of all de darkies and set dem crazy. One day as I was knocking through the fields with a bundle of cotton on my head, Ben looked up from the hoe and, fixing his eyes on me watched till I was out of sight. De next day Ben come to de cabin and tole me that I was de prettiest thing he eber seed. Dese little feet and dat ole cotton dress which was so short dat I eubber liked it, was what de ole man's eye.

There were seven other niggers after me at de time, but I liked Ben de best, even though I was three years older.

How do you account for your living to such an extreme age?

Well I doesn't know 'zactly how tis, unless it was dat old fare ob ash cakes, hoe cakes, hominy and good fat bacon.

How many children had you?

Sixteen, sharply answered the old lady, affecting a compeetish modesty.

Only five of dem are alive now and de youngest is fifty years old. Dese five are all living in dis city with thirty two children, and all of dese are married and got children and dese got children again.

How many great grand-children have you?

God only knows! My stock of numbers runs out before I get half around. I've seen de f'oth generation of my children. Jane Cook, one of my great grandchildren, living on Twelfth and Rowan, has a son six years old.

They tell me that de old time negro's teeth never have been known to wear out?

I doesn't know about dat. I never

"The Old Reliable,"

M. FRANKEL & SONS!

had a rotten tooth in my head, and never had one to drop out, but I have not had a tooth in dese old gums for many years. They just wore out and blew away.

How is the old man's teeth.

Oh lord bless you, sonny, he's ateething, just like de baby; just think of it. Here the old woman fairly shook with laughter, and slapped the old man several times on the head in the height of ecstasy. Maybe you don't believe it sonny, but it is the fact and I can't help laughing when I think of the old rascal getting a new set of teeth. It looks like he intends living forever.

As evidence, the old man stood up and, curling back his upper lip, allowed the scribbler to insert his fingers to establish the fact and altho' all doubt.

From the front part of the upper gum extend two ivory incisors about a quarter of an inch beyond the gums.

He is just like a teething baby, too, the old woman continued, and when they were cutting he was so cross and peevish we didn't know what to do with him.

The old couple are an interesting pair, and undoubtedly very old.

They were brought to the city a few days ago from Bardstown to pass the remainder of their days surrounded by their children and grandchildren down to the fourth generation.

Tilden Boomers.

A special to the Memphis Appeal from Washington says:

A prominent member of the Randall Democratic Club, of Philadelphia said today: We will turn out 100 strong at the Chicago convention.

Our uniforms have already been ordered, and we have engaged the finest apartments in the Palmer House.

We will take with us the finest band in Philadelphia, and our supplies of wine and cigars will be sumptuous.

Who will your club boom at Chicago? asked his correspondent.

Tilden from first to last, answered the gentleman; if his nomination is impracticable then, of course, we are for Randall.

Who pays the expenses of your club at Chicago?

The Democratic State Association of Pennsylvania, was the reply.

In the old days no woman was allowed to deccerate the monastery of San Augustin, Mexico, by so much as putting her foot within its walls.

A noble lady of Spain, wife of the reigning Viceroy, was bent on visiting it. Nothing could stop her and in she came. But she found only empty cloisters, for each virtuous monk locked himself securely in his cell, and afterward every stone in the floor which her sacrilegious feet had touched was carefully replaced by new ones, fresh from the mountain top, before the pollution of her presence was considered removed. But times are sadly changed, and the house has been turned into a common hostelry.

A Lafayette lady, after having looked under the bed every night for lo! these many years, to find the hypothetical man there, actually found him the other night. It would be hard to say which was most surprised. They gazed in blank amazement for a moment. The fellow first found tongue, and said politely: "I am sorry you'n't have been frightened. I was only here on business."

It would be unpleasant if any one should come in and find you had a gentleman in your room—please don't mention it." He backed gently to the window, bowed himself out and slid down a ladder into the outer darkness. The whole affair was accomplished so quietly and decorously that she forgot to scream.

Western Lunatic Asylum.

EDITOR HAWESVILLE DEMOCRAT.

In response to your request for correspondence I will give you a description of my present home. It is situated on the north side of the pike on a beautiful slope of land, two miles east of Hopkinstonville, Ky. The house is a beautiful brick of three stories, is divided into the Central Building, the East Wing, the West Wing and Basement. In the centre building is the house of Dr. James Rodman and family, also Drs. R. W.
Stone and Benj. F. Eager, three men you would have to travel many days to find their equals for kind and gentle treatment, to the poor unfortunate family they have under their control. The east wing is divided into six departments, called wards, for females; the west wing is divided into eight wards, for males; in the basement we find two kitchens; one for Dr. Rodman's family, the other for the sick and female attendants, and also stores of general provisions for the place. Just in the rear of this building is a large kitchen and wash house where the laundry is performed by steam. Much of the cooking is done by steam. The wards are warmed by steam. The water is supplied from a spring on a bluff three fourths of a mile north of the building, which is conducted through iron pipes laid under the ground.

In addition to what I have described there are thirty acres of land, on which we find a brick cottage called Rodman's college, in whi h twenty-seven men are found, who are called the better class of lunatics, many of whom will soon be sent home as cured. Should you see many of them now you would say:
"why that man is not a lunatic."

You also find a brick building of some size occupied by colored females, and box houses for the colored males, and similar houses for old, incurable, harmless lunatics.

Last year two houses were erected for females who have become convalescent and need quietude, which they cannot have in the main building, or out in the cottage. The entire tract land connected with the asylum contains 421 acres, and is divided into a farm and garden. Much of the work is done by what is called "lunatic labor."

On the farm are 600 cows, 7 horses, 18 cows and a fine herd of Jersey heifers which will soon be very valuable.

We have representative from sixty different counties in the State, Warren county having the largest and Barren county the next largest number, we now have 583 in family, not counting physicians, nurses, cooks and attendants. On a pretty day, when it is warm and pleasant, you can see 150 females out in different parts of the beautiful park that surrounds the building, and 200 men playing base ball and walking over the ground.

The treatment is mild but firm. If a man comes here to make this his home he should see if his papers are made out right, that is if he has mind enough to do so, and if he has not, his friends should do so for him.

Many men are sent here with a cold form of the law, accompanied by some cold-hearted man or men, who just put him inside, get a check for their money, and then leaves though they thought they had performed some great feat. Now by experience I find if any one becomes demented the best thing that can be done, is for some of his friends to give a plain and true statement of his case and then let it accompany him. In all cases where this is done I see that it is better for all parties. I also suggest that in all cases where friends can do so, they should accompany their unfortunate friend, and then give a true verbal statement. I think if the law was fully complied with the judges would write a plain statement in all cases, but they, like the committee, do just as little as they can. In these days of investigating committees, sent out to look into asylums, if the legislature would make some change in the law in regard to sending men here; not leave them as they would deliver hogs to be slaughtered, it would be better than to look after others. I am not astonished at what came up of Anchorage —it was as much the fault of the law as Dr. Gale. While Dr. James Rodman is superintendent and Drs. R.

W. Stone and B. F. Eager are his assistants, there will never be any use of expending money to come here to look after their work. Your friend, A. LUNATIC.

In Memoriam.

[Russellville Enterprise.]

Mr. Asa Wilgus, residing near Edgar Creek meeting house, in Logan county, Ky., departed this life May 6th, 1881. He was attacked on the 25th ult., with paralysis, while sitting at the table of a friend, and though he was removed to his own home on the following day, and all that was possible was done for him, yet God had called him, and he was compelled to go. A devoted wife lent over him by day and by night; his children wept and worked about him; neighbors and friends crowded to his bedside to give him aid, and to speak for him words of comfort.

During his sufferings his Christian fortbearance, thankfulness to friends and loved ones, and trust in the mercies of his ever blessed Savior, were exhibited in a remarkable degree.

To his associates and relatives he had long ago given advice concerning the duties of life, and respecting man's final destiny, so that when death came to him he had nothing to do but to gather himself up and pass from earth to a home of rest.

Father Wilgus was born in Payette county, Ky., April 24th, 1814, and was, consequently, 70 years and 12 days old at the time of his death.

He united with the Baptist church, at Edgar Creek, Nov. 24th, 1849, and though living in Illinois and Indiana two years of his Christian life, he kept his membership with the Edgar brethren, and during all these days went in and out, before the disciples of his Master as one born of God. Few men among us devoted more time to the reading of the Bible than did Bro. Wilgus. Spurgeon's sermons were constantly at his hand, and the things of God were his chief conversation. Much more could be said, respecting our departed friend and brother, but we forbear.

To that wife who did so much for him in sickness and health, to his surviving daughters and son, Mr. G.
A. Wilgus, to his only living brother, Mr. Alfred Wilgus, of Paola, Kansas, to each of his other relatives, together with the families of all his kindred and to all his neighbors, friends and Christian brethren, the writer would say, may our Heavenly Father be with you all till we shall meet the beloved husband, parent, kin-man, neighbor and Christian brother where parting shall be no more, and sorrow shall never come.

MAY 8th, 1884.

A FRIEND.

One encouraging fact about the Wall street bury-burly is that it was the absence of country launds that drove the bulls and bears to destroying one another. The country at large can afford to stand a disinterested spectator of the guttripping going on among the gamblers. It will not be the people's funeral.—Louisville Times.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Joun Boyd as a Republican candidate for Sheriff of Christian county. Election August 1884.

Harrison is said to be Blaine's second choice.

Arthur has been gaining ground for several days and his chances are now very flattering. The convention will meet next Tuesday.

Joaquin Miller says the tickets will be Arthur and Lincoln and Tilden and Hendricks and that the Democratic ticket will be elected.

The French brig Zenorine, with 32 passengers and a crew of 9, sunk off the coast of New Foundland, Friday, and all on board perished.

Hon. J. Q. Ward, of Cynthia, is the first candidate announced for Judge Reid's vacant seat on the Superior Court Bench. The election has not yet been called and there is no necessity for such indecent haste.

Tammany Hall Democrats held a grand mass meeting in New York Friday night and declared for Tilden and tariff reform. Several distinguished speakers addressed the meeting and great enthusiasm prevailed.

Of the six National Conventions the Anti-monopoly was held at Chicago, May 14th; the Greenback-Labor will be held at Indianapolis, May 28; the Republican at Chicago June 24; the Democratic at Chicago, July 8; the Prohibition at Pittsburgh, July 23.

The Chesapeake & Ohio railroad has purchased a controlling interest in the Kentucky Central, thereby completing its line to Cincinnati. Trains will be run through to Charleston, S. C., and to Jacksonville, Fla.

The Princeton Banner says Judge Grace hasn't yet made up his mind whether he will be a candidate for Congress in the First district. A representative of the South KENTUCKIAN recently interviewed Judge Grace and he stated emphatically that he would not make a canvass for the nomination.

On to-morrow, the 28th inst., a triple wedding will occur at Lewisburg, near Covington, Ky., the three ladies being sisters, daughters of Mr. Geo. Massmann. Miss Minnie will wed Mr. John Stevenson, Miss Mary will be united to Mr. Jos. Schwertman and Miss Lizzie will link her destinies with Mr. J. H. Kruse. It will be a grand affair, as the parties are all prominent in social circles. A wedding of this kind is something out of the usual order of things.

The oldest of the Presidential candidates in either party is Payne, of Ohio, who is seventy-four. The youngest, Lincoln excepted, is Cleveland, who is only forty-seven, and Flower comes next with forty-nine. Senator Logan is about fifty-five. Edmunds fifty-six, Hawley fifty-eight, Allison fifty-five, Harrison and Gresham each fifty-one, and Blaine and Arthur each fifty-four. Thurman is seventy-one, McDonald sixty-five, Hendricks sixty, Bayard fifty-six, General Denver sixty-six, Randall fifty-five.—Louisville Commercial.

The Henderson News has declared for McKenzie and against Clay for Congress and the State Sentinel, another of Mr. Clay's home papers and his most enthusiastic supporter in 1832, uses this strangely peculiar language in an article on the Congressional race:

"As the State Sentinel, has wept over its folly of becoming wedded to candidates too early and now repeats the folly in sackcloth and ashes, mourning its lost love, it proposes to bide a wee before taking a dose of warmed-over affection, and in all matters of sentiment, most woeful of that ilk prefer a maiden whose first love can be won, to paying suit at a shrine, that is deaf to all pleadings and all attempts to magnify the potent charms of the beloved. Therefore the State Sentinel, for the time being will remain 'a looker on in Vienna' and be somewhat on the Gretchen order—with arms akimbo and needle poised to see that justice is done. The four prospective candidates that now figure before the camera of the philanthropic eye of the people and who ask the bestowal of some $6,000 per annum on them are: Hon. James F. Clay, of this city, who is now serving his first term; Hon. James A. McKenzie, of Christian who has served three terms heretofore; Hon. James A. Munday, of Owensboro, who has served in the State Senate and last, but not the short horse, Polk Ladlow, of Madisonville.

Location of the candidate should not be considered and will not be by this paper. The man who is best fitted for the district is the one for the people to elect. The petty local preferences are too pitiable to cause a wrong to the country to be done."

From this we are led to conclude that the Sentinel has not made up its mind to support the Henderson county candidate but will maintain a position of armed neutrality in the coming conflict.

Hon. J. H. Rudy is a candidate for County Judge of Davess county, to fill a vacancy.

The Old Ticket.

For some weeks it has been growing more and more evident that the people all over the country were almost unanimously in their desire for the re-nomination of Tilden and Hendricks, the Democratic standard-bearers of 1876, who were counted out by an infamous Commission, after being elected. Last week the two great states of Ohio and New York called their conventions and the unanimous sentiment of the state committees was for Mr. Tilden's re-nomination. Senator Payne, who was announced as a candidate, has withdrawn in favor of Tilden and there is no doubt that Ohio will instruct for the old ticket at the state convention June 24, if Mr. Tilden will give his consent to be a candidate.

New York will hold her convention at Saratoga, June 18, and it is understood that Mr. Tilden will write a letter and settle the much-discussed question of whether or not he will accept if nominated. His own state will of course be unanimously and enthusiastically for him.

Pennsylvania, New Jersey and several other states have already instructed for Tilden and Kentucky will send a Tilden delegation instructed, excepting to compliment Mr. Carlisle. All over the country, even in the far west, the sentiment is the same and if Mr. Tilden will consent to lead his party once more to victory the nomination will be tendered him by acclamation and the battle cry will be "Tilden, Hendricks and Reform" as eight years ago.

The matter of availability and personal popularity being therefore settled in advance there remain but three other points to be considered in nominating the old ticket: Can he be elected? Is he physically able to stand the excitement of a canvass? and will he accept a nomination?

Mr. Tilden was elected once and he is to-day stronger than he was eight years ago, with the general feeling of vindication in his favor.

The two factions of the party are united in New York and both factions are working earnestly for Tilden; the state is Democratic by 101,000 majority and there is a bitter factional fight in the Republican party and in view of all these facts it is not doubted that Mr. Tilden could sweep the state by an overwhelming majority. Further, the Ohio Democrats—and Ohio gave a Democratic majority of 25,000 last year—claim that Tilden can carry that state, where the Half-breeds and Statwarts are still quarreling over Garfield's assassination.

Either of these states would be sufficient to elect him with the certainty Democratic states, and with the party organized better and with eight years more of Republican corruption nauseating the country and with 25 of the 38 states Democratic, we see no reason why a sweeping victory should not be won with Tilden as our leader.

The question of Mr. Tilden's physical capacity has been already settled. Various committees and delegations have called upon him recently and found him to be hale, hearty and well-preserved old gentleman of 70 years, who comes of a long-lived stock and bids fair to live for many years to come. His arm is somewhat palsied but he is otherwise in better health than he has been for several years and is as active and spry as most men 20 years younger.

As to whether or not he will accept the nomination if it is tendered him the public has not been informed. His intimate friends give it as their opinion that he will. It is believed by the country at large that Mr. Tilden is too patriotic a statesman to refuse to answer a call of his countrymen and that he will consent. His decision will probably be definitely announced at the meeting of his state convention, June 18.

One other consideration may be mentioned. Mr. Hendricks is in thorough harmony with Mr. Tilden and wants the old ticket re-nominated, although he refused the second place in 1880. The ticket suits all Democrats on the tariff question and was elected eight years ago on "a tariff for revenue" platform. Both gentlemen are in harmony with the National Democracy on the question of tariff taxation and favor tariff reform and are also acceptable to the high tariff faction of the party. All things considered the "old ticket" is the best one that can be nominated and it is nominated the people will elect it and there will be no more Electoral Commissions to count out the choice of the people.

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

They had a strawberry and ice-cream festival in Princeton Friday night, for the benefit of the cemetery. Rather a dangerous place to invite the public.

Miss Millie Rose, "the champion pedestrienne of the world" will attempt to walk sixty miles in twelve hours at Evansville, June 1. We suppose she is a Rose that could be as fleet by any other name.

The Bowling Green Gazette says Prof. T. W. Frogge and Miss Emma Galloway, of Rich Pond, Warren county, eloped to Gallatin, Tenn., last week and were married. The Professor must have been a very foolish Frogge to jump out of a Rich Pond and take his Galloway.

The Green River Courier, in speaking of the Congressional race, has already begun to use such elegant expressions as "all fired rotten," etc. If this thing keeps on by the time the campaign opens the Courier will have to be handled with a pair of tongs or taken out between two chairs.

TRENTON, KY.

THE FORT'S STATION RE-UNION—COLORED CONVENTION—ATTEMPTED ARSON—SOCIAL NOTES, ETC.

Friday, May 24th, we had the great pleasure of attending the re-union of the Fort, Johnson, Whitfield, Warfield and Killbuck families at Fort's Station, Tenn.

A number of the friends and relatives went from Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Trenton, Guthrie, Chattanooga and other places. The train arrived there about nine o'clock, and the crowd adjourned to a beautiful grove on the banks of Red River and listened to the speech of welcome delivered by Mr. Fort in a very happy manner. Rev. V. M. Metcalfe, of Hopkinsville, then spoke for several minutes of his ancestors who had settled near by in the days of Daniel Boone. He read a piece of poetry "The Judean Teacher of Old" by Samuel Mercer of your city. The poetry was full of humor and pathos and was loudly applauded by all present. Rev. J. W. Fort next took the stand and made a very pleasant speech, closing with the good advice to all his relatives and friends "to make one unbroken family in Heaven." Col. Thos. Fort, of Chattanooga, was introduced to the crowd and entertained them for a short while with one of his most pleasant speeches. He is not only a candidate for Congress in his own district but a candidate at large for matrimony. All join in the hope that the Colonel may be elected by a large majority in both races. Next came dinner, a very important part of the programme. The dinner was everything that the most fastidious could desire, consisting of barbecued mutton and sheep, fried chicken, ice cream, strawberries, cake, etc. After every one had partaken of this feast, Mr. Joseph Washington, of Robertson county, Tenn., furnished a feast of reason in a very able speech of twenty minutes. Joel, a twenty-six-year-old, gray headed Fort made the closing speech and expressed himself as willing to be the "Billy goat rather than the meeting shall break up."

Mr. Fort is a very brilliant young man and a very fine speaker. His relatives and friends are proud of him and well they may be, for he is deserving of praise as an orator and hospitable gentleman. The families concluded to make their reunion yearly and elected V. M. Metcalfe, President, and Joel B. Fort, Secretary. Their next meeting will probably be at Dunbar's Cave. After a very unanimous vote of thanks to the committee for their hospitality, everybody went home having spent one of the most pleasant days in all their lives. May all the friends and relatives meet again in many more pleasant reunions in my sincere wish.

James Shelton's string band furnished delightful music for the occasion.

Good ice-water and nothing stronger was a very pleasant feature of the re-union.

Miss Rachael E. Nash, the great grand daughter of Thos. Nash, the founder of the city of Nashville, Tenn., a charming belle of Union City, Tenn., attended the re-union with her friend, Miss Minnie Daury, of Montgomery county.

Mrs. Lizzie McGuire (our aunt of Paducah, attended the re-union with her brother, Mr. Radford, of Christian county, Ky.

Miss Mamie Barnes, one of the sweetest and most sensible young ladies of Hopkinsville, attended the re-union and found us a relative, for which we owe her many thanks.

Mrs. R. H. Moody went to Nashville Friday.

Hon. John F. Lockett returned to Henderson last Wednesday.

The colored Sunday-school convention held its session here last week. The crowd was a very large one. Excursion trains from Hopkinsville, Clarksville and way stations came in on Sunday. Some one made an estimate of the number of razors in the crowd and put it at two thousand.

Mrs. E. L. McElwain visited Clarksville last week on a shopping excursion.

Miss Emma Dickinson is in the city visiting her friend, Miss Jennie Tabanias.

Rev. P. H. Lockett returned from Glasgow, Ky., Friday and preached to his flock Sunday morning and evening.

The Methodists have organized a Sunday-school at their church, on Main street, and will meet, regularly every Sunday morning at half past nine.

Samuel Stegar leaves for Fort Worth, Texas, this week.

Mrs. J. S. Dickinson visited Clarksville last Thursday and returned Friday evening.

Last Friday night some party attempted to burn the colored Methodist church in this city. William Leavell on his return from O. E. Tandy's place at 12 o'clock, found fence rails and shavings burning under the church. No one knows who did it. The parties if caught up with should be treated to a first-class hanging.

An old gent in Warren county named Henry Hanor, 82 years old, fell dead last week while assisting a young lady to mount a horse. A warning to old chaps to stand back and give the boys a chance. "That's what's the matter with Hanor."

Henry Hays, who bore the reputation of a desperado, was found dead in his bed near Owensboro, last week with six bullet holes in his body. Detectives are trying to find a clue to the murder.

Mrs. Margaret Short, wife of Col. Rold, H. Short, of New Orleans, formerly a resident of this city, died May 10th, aged 68 years. She had many relatives and friends in this county who will regret to learn of her death.

James Pye & Co. are closing out their entire stock of Ready-Made clothing at what it will bring, in order to make a change in their business on July 1st.

A detailed report of the family reunion at Fort's Station, Tenn., is given in our Trenton letter. A large number of the friends and representatives of the various families interested attended from this place. A permanent organization was effected with Mr. V. M. Metcalfe, of this city, as President.

See M. Frankel & Sons before buying dry goods, clothing, boots, shoes &c; they are always leading in low prices.

We have been handed the following recipe which is said to be the best mixture ever tried for keeping cabbage clear of worms: 4 lbs. salt, 1 lb. sulphur, 1 gallon red-dog shorts, 1 lb. sal soda. Apply with a sifter nine mornings in succession while the dew is on the plants.

Rev. J. N. Prestidge preached the commencement sermon of the Baptist college last Sunday night and it is regarded as the finest effort ever made on a similar occasion in this city. It was replete with learning, thought and eloquent diction and was heard by a large and attentive congregation.

This is the closest cut of all—The last cut James Pye & Co. have made in their Mammoth stock of clothing. Mr. J. C. Shanahan, the well-known boot and shoemaker, whose shop is in the rear of the Plunkers Bank, is still turning out good fits at low prices. We have seen some of his work recently, and can say that his work will bear close inspection, and will recommend him anywhere as a first-class workman.

The L. A. and T. bridge across Red River is now in position. The false work has been knocked from beneath, and the work of screwing up the bridge and adjusting it in position is progressing. By next Monday or Tuesday the track can be laid across, and then we doubt not the work of track-laying will proceed without interruption. No doubt our friends in Christian county who have grown tired waiting will be encouraged by this news.—Clarksville Tobacco Leaf.

J. S. Grumley, of Elkton, bought a ticket from Haden'sville to Clarksville, on the L. & N. Railroad. The conductor took up the ticket and after passing Guthrie again called on Grumley for the fare from Guthrie to Clarksville. Grumley protested and tried to explain that his ticket was to Clarksville, but the train was stopped and he was put off in the woods. He has since the road for $5,000.

On last Friday night the citizens of Elkton received an intimation that Dick Henderson, the negro who cut Charlie Adams, at Pichem, would be taken out at night and lynched. The authorities promptly hurried the prisoner off to Russellville at 6 o'clock P. M., and sure enough a mob put in an appearance at 12 o'clock and went through the jail looking for Henderson. They were taken considerably aback when they learned from Sheriff Armstrong that Henderson had been taken to the Logan county jail by one of his deputies. It is thought that there will be an effort made to get him out of the Russellville jail.

A YOUNG LADY SHOT.

Miss Josie Rutherford Accidentally Shoots Miss Bettie Boulware With a Target Gun.

Miss Bettie Boulware, youngest daughter of Mr. R. L. Boulware, was accidentally shot and painfully wounded by Miss Josie Rutherford, a daughter of Mr. James Rutherford, at the Fair Grounds last Saturday. The young people of the Southern Presbyterian church were having a picnic at the Fair Grounds that day and during the play some of the boys had been practicing with a target gun. In the afternoon Miss Rutherford picked up the gun and playfully remarked to Miss Boulware, "I will shoot you." The latter threw her left hand up to her face and exclaimed "Oh don't!" but at that instant the gun was accidentally discharged, the ball going through the middle finger of Miss Boulware's left hand and entering her cheek, going into her mouth. The teeth were not injured as the young lady's mouth was open when the shot was fired. The wound bled profusely and the ball was probably carried out of her mouth with the flow of blood as it has not been found. Her face is badly swollen but the wound is not dangerous, though a scar will probably be left on her face.

The Fairview Tobacco Fair.

The annual tobacco fair at Fairview last Saturday was a grand success so far as the exhibits were concerned, but the attendance was not as large as usual. Hopkinsville was well represented and the day was pleasantly spent by all who were present.

The special sweepstakes premium of a $50 Tobacco Curing Furnace, by W. F. Coulter, Clarksville, Tenn., was awarded to E. H. Fritz. No sample having taken a premium was allowed to compete for this premium.

After the result was announced the samples, forty in number, weighing ten pounds each, were sold at auction and brought $14.00. This money, $54.00 will go into the premium fund for 1885.

NOTES.

Col. M. D. Brown acted as auctioneer and made a good one. We had the pleasure of seeing Col. Warner Campbell in the "munition eating" net, in which he is said to be without an equal.

Capt. Tom Steele was very attentive to the visitors and seemed to enjoy their company.

Dr. Stuart makes an active and efficient secretary and spared no pains to make the Fair a success.

Charlie Tandy brought out some of his fine horses and exhibited them. He has one of the finest stables of thoroughbreds in Christian or Todd counties.

We are indebted to Mr. Marion Layne for a most excellent dinner.

Robt. Edmunds, a colored man, got $10 worth of premiums.

Mr. Geo. W. Jesup, the President, makes a first-class officer and understands his duties thoroughly.

Mr. Coulter, of Clarksville, was present and explained his Tobacco Curing Furnace which was on exhibition.

The machine men and insurance agents were out in force.

The day was profitably as well as pleasantly spent, as we secured a handsome list of new subscribers.

Our Trenton correspondent, Judge R. L. McGuire, who was positive was at the Grand Re-union Friday. The nobly white felt hat which he wore took the eye of several of the young ladies, one in particular. The Judge, like his able letters, is indeed very popular.

GARRETTSBURG, KY.

A few days ago, while in the act of hanging a key upon a nail, Miss Laura Davis fell from a rock, on which she was standing, and seriously hurt herself. Her injuries were quite severe and she has not, since her accident, been able to walk without the aid of crutches.

city, has recently been, quite ill from a tuberculous formation in his lungs, but he is now, Canille is glad to report, very much improved, and it is to be hoped will soon be entirely well.

Rev. J. C. Tate preached a series of sermons at "McKenzie-Kirk," Benningtown, commencing on Friday night last and closing on the Sunday following. Mr. Tate had large and appreciative audiences, but there were no additions to the church during the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paschal Giles recently spent a few days in Lebanon, Tenn., on a visit to friends.
